FEDERATION CLOSES

Fargo Chosen as Place of Next Meeting—Review of the Convention Week

Delegates to the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the North Dakota Federation of Women's clubs were departing for their homes today after the conclusion of the convention here last night.

After the selection of Mrs. L. N. Cary, of Mandan, as president, and the selection of Fargo as the place of meeting next year without opposition, the club women adopted resolutions, covering many subjects. They include:

Urges the extension of supervision of motion pictures through state boards of censorship, and calls on clubwomen to seek a law creating such a board at the coming session of the state legislature.

Urges the budget system for mother's pensions, and placing supervision of such aid to some especially designated worker, holding present system inadequate.

Urges next legislature to pass legislation to bring state prohibition law in accord with the federal law, known as the Volstead act, and says: "We are unalterably opposed to ever reopening the question of national prohibition."

Praising Hazel Miner, the 15-year-old girl who perished in an endeavor to save the lives of her little brother and sister near Center on March 15, 1920, it directs a copy of the resolution of praise shall be sent to her relatives and that a portion of the scholarship loan fund be known as the Hazel Miner Memorial Fund.

Praising the home demonstration agents' work and urges the federation members' support of the movement.

Regarding suffrage the federation urges women to align themselves with the most capable and public-spirited men in the parties now in existence, demands that the schools be kept out of politics, and declares it the duty of every woman to inform herself on political matters and cast her vote conscientiously and intelligently.

Advocates in education the teaching of Mothercraft or a definite health league program as of primary importance, and pledges aid in securing two ward buildings for the Grafton institution.

Endorses a proposal for the establishment of a department of education under a secretary in the president's cabinet, and the granting of federal aid as provided in the Smith-Towner bill.

Would amend the present kindergarten law to make establishment of them easier.

Advocates state aid in making a survey and giving aid and assistance to the crippled children of the state, and endorsed the Shepard-Towner bill pending in congress.

Pledges support of the United States government's fight against venereal disease, and ordered meeting of each constituent club, each year, be devoted to a discussion of the menace.

Declares the clubs will sell more Christmas seals this year than ever before. (The sales reported last year amounted to $6,000, but it is stated many did not report total to public health chairman.)

There was no discussion in the adoption of the resolutions. In addition to those presented by the resolutions committee, the motion picture and home demonstrations agent resolutions were presented from the floor.

At the afternoon session representatives of Fargo rendered a welcome to hold the twenty-fifth federation meeting there next year, and before any other city's invitation was offered the clubwomen accepted that of Fargo.

Tribe to Miss Nielson. One of the features of the last afternoon was the demonstration given for Miss Minnie J. Nielson, state superintendent of public instruction, when she addressed the body. Women waved handkerchiefs and cheered her for nearly five minutes.

First in importance, in reviewing the sessions, must be mentioned the presence of many distinguished and talented persons, specialists in their lines, gathered to lend their talents to the pleasure and benefit of the federation. Professor Voder, of the State university, brought promise of many helpful hints in making out programs and finding material for club study. The head of the drama department of the Agricultural college, A. C. Arnold, assembled the very best working plan for promoting the pageantry in our communities that has ever been presented in this state, while the plea for a more extended and satisfactory study of the Bible as literature was earnestly and learnedly presented by the Dean of the College of Arts of the Stanley Coveleskie prepared to pitch to Cleveland.

"If I can get by 'splitter' breaking we can put this game in the hat bag," said Coveleskie.

WILSON URGES HONOR TO DEAD

Washington, Oct. 9.—President Wilson today directed that on Sunday, Nov. 14, the American flag be displayed at half mast on all public buildings and naval and military posts "as a token of the nation's participation in the memorial services held for the heroic American soldiers, sailors, marines and others, who gave their lives to their country in the World war."

WHEAT SLUMPS

Chicago, Oct. 9.—Attempts to stiffen the wheat market failed at the opening of today's board of trade session. Wheat was active at 2 1/2 to 4 1/4 cents higher at the start.

The movement brought out a flood of selling and the reaction was quick and sharp, to around yesterday's high with December at $1.93 1/2 and March at $1.90 3/4.

ELKS DEPUTY FOR N. D. NAMED

Minot, N. D., Oct. 9.—John J. Cayle, of Minot, today was notified that he had been named deputy of the Elks for North Dakota. The appointment was made by William M. Abbott, of San Francisco, grand exalted ruler of the Elks in this country.

SWOOP DOWN ON POKER PLAYERS NORTH OF CITY

Deputy State Inspectors Make Arrests in Mountrail County

Two deputy inspectors of the state license department returned today from a trip through several counties north and northwest of the state capital, in which time they made several arrests for violations of law.

With county officials, a real poker game was raided in Van Hook, Mountrail county, they said. The gambling room was in an upstairs room over a pool hall. One of the inspectors, who was invited in the game, won $30, and then, after quitting, slipped out a rear door and invited the sheriff and state attorney, Frank Ausler, and H. B. Colman, the latter owner of the pool hall, were arrested. They will have a hearing Oct. 18.

John Bernier, proprietor of a pool hall at Plaza, Mountrail county, pleaded guilty to selling snuff and was fined $50.

F. W. Welch, pool hall owner at Lost Wood, was arrested on a charge of running a pool hall without a license, also of having a gambling apparatus. He is said to have paid a fine. The state inspectors expect to make many arrests of men charged with running pool halls without licenses.

B. P. Dean, of Lost Wood, was arrested on the same charge. M. C. Wilkes, of Bernier, was charged with selling snuff and asked for a trial.

SENATOR GRONNA URGES EMBARGO ON WHEAT INFLUX

Bankers Association Also Asks Wilson to Stop Flooding of Country

Fargo, Oct. 9.—Senator A. J. Gronna, the Fargo Commercial club and the state bankers' association have wired President Wilson urging an immediate embargo on the shipment of Canadian wheat into the United States, which has depressed the market. Senator Gronna's message said:

"Honorable Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.

"If it is true that the reduction in the price of wheat is caused by the dumping of Canadian grain into our markets, then I believe that without delay the anti-dumping clause of the present tariff law should be put into operation by placing an embargo against the importation of wheat and flour from Canada.

"If present prices continue very long it will ruin the farmers who have paid 70 cents an hour for labor in producing this year's crop. It will also cause innumerable failures among bush cash. Kindly give this your careful attention.

A. J. GRONNA.

The company is incorporated under the laws of West Virginia, and as a foreign corporation exercises its right of removal of the case to federal court. Bond was given by the company.

The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre coal company in accordance with the decision of the United States supreme court.

COAL PRIORITY RULE EXTENDED BY COMMISSION

Railroads Required to Furnish Cars to Mines in Preference to Others

MOVE TO LAKE PORTS

Movement of Coal Expected to Result in Satisfaction of Domestic Demands

Washington, Oct. 9.—Action to satisfy demands for domestic coal in various states was taken last night by the Interstate Commerce commission in an order requiring railroads east of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico to furnish coal cars to mines in preference to any other use.

Former orders of this character applied only to the east of the Mississippi river. The present order, the commission said, would run until further notice, but would be relaxed as the situation warranted.

The commission also ordered all outstanding permits for use of coal cars for other traffic cancelled but announced that arrangements to continue the movement of certain essential, such as sugar beets to factory, would be made.

Working in conjunction with coal operators and railroads, a program has been formulated, the committee said, which is expected substantially to meet domestic coal needs. It is planned to transport approximately 2,100 cars daily for purposes in Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, eastern Kentucky, eastern Tennessee, western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Attention is also being given to needs of domestic consumers in other states, the commission added.

As public utilities and institutions have accumulated some stocks of coal under the commission's priority order, that order has been superceded by a new regulation which, the commission announced, will care for special cases of real emergency. After Oct. 14 the preferential car supply for public institutions will be affected only upon approval of the commission.

Lake Order Remains

Despite an increase in coal production which up to Sept. 25 exceeded that of last year, 1,000,000 tons, the commission said "there has not been a sufficient production of the sizes of coal for domestic purposes to satisfy all present demands."

The existing order for the preferential movement of 1,000 cars of coal daily for the northwest was not changed.

A statement issued by the National Coal association said the increased car movement has already started and would meet immediate needs. After the lake movement was completed the statement said, there would be available ample coal for domestic winter storage.

HIGH PRICES UNJUSTIFIED

Washington, Oct. 9.—High bituminous coal prices are unjustified and eastern consumers who have as much as a month's supply on hand should buy only for immediate need, the American Wholesale Coal association advised today.

There is no danger of a bituminous coal shortage, the association said, and indicated by holding off buying consumers can cut prices. The statement of the association was prepared by the executive committee.

CANADA PROMISED MORE

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The chief of railroad commissioners announced last night they had received reports that the United States authorities had completed arrangements to increase the coal tonnage destined for Canada by way of lake ports before navigation closes, and that every effort would be made to keep coal cars moving between the lake ports and the mines.

SURE, LET TAXPAYERS PAY FOR EDDIE'S PROPAGANDA—N. P. FOLLOWERS FOR IT

Chairman of Board of County Commissioners Evolves Neat Little Plan to Let County Pay Cost of Defending Him—Sets Nice Precedent, Too

Most people believe that when a man wants to insert in newspapers an advertisement for himself he should pay for it.

But "Whistling Eddie" apparently doesn't. Not while he controls the purse of Burleigh county. Let the county pay for it!

And the taxpayers of the county are to pay for a statement in behalf of the whistling chairman of the Burleigh county board of commissioners. And two Non-partisan members of the board cheerfully acquiesced to this method of getting rid of some of the taxpayers' money.

Last week Patterson found it advantageous to loan a county road engine, which had been placed under the direction of Commissioner Blevins Ward to do road work, to the penitentiary to trash Patterson's grain. Ward sought a restraining order, Judge Nussle held that the manner of doing it was perfectly legal. He suggested that it was in bad taste for any commissioner to use county property in a way that would benefit himself, directly or indirectly, but held there was not sufficient grounds for granting a restraining order when the county loaned an engine to the penitentiary. He suggested that Ward, who said he wanted the engine for road work, might bring an action in claim and delivery. All of which was duly chronicled in The Tribune.

Praise Me, Please. But "Whistling Eddie" wanted a regular advertisement for himself. So he introduced a resolution in the board of county commissioners to have printed a long resolution, which bore the earmarks of having been prepared by the faithful followers, El Alton, and Commissioners Swanson and Paines, with Patterson, voted to have it printed in Brinton's paper. Also in the other Non-partisan league paper. And, on Ward's motion, on which Patterson did not vote "aye," to have it printed in The Tribune.

Makes Precedent. The resolution defends "Whistling Eddie" and refers to The Tribune's editorial which said that the county commissioners should not delay in passing a rule that the road machinery is to be used latter provision may come in handy solely for road work and not for private enterprises.

The resolution further states "that the citizens and other public bodies should receive the benefit of the use of county property when not in the use by the county." The latter provision may come in handy for Patterson if he wants to loan some county property to some faithful voter to do his own private work or to loan it to himself—and if some taxpayer objects in court.

FORCE FARMERS TO PAY COUNTY AT THIS TIME?

Pre-election Arrangement Makes It Nice for State's Attorney if He Wins

COMMISSIONERS ACTION

The board of county commissioners has delegated to a candidate for office the power of virtually deciding whether to force farmers to pay notes for seed grain, etc., in the near future or to have them extended.

The resolution is regarded as considerable importance coming on the eve of the final campaign drive in the county.

The state's attorney was delegated the power of taking an examination and inquiring into the "advisability" of bringing action against farmers who haven't paid their notes, many of whom had near crop failure, and to report to the board.

The notes can be extended until the time stipulated for the payment of bonds, about a year and a half hence, or on March 1, 1922, but the state's attorney is given power to make a favorable or unfavorable report just before election.

To Collect Taxes. The commissioner entered into a contract with the sheriff for the collection of delinquent personal taxes for 1917 and previous years, and to let the sheriff retain the interest and penalty on all delinquent taxes for 1917 and previous years.

The board adopted a resolution asking the state highway commission to view the highway between the penitentiary and the new bridge and estimate the cost of making a hard-surfaced road. A contract for putting gravel on the Red Trail near Menoken was let to R. F. Jaeger for $135 per yard for a half mile haul and larger amounts for a longer haul.

Salaries Raised. The board raised the salary of E. M. Kafer, deputy sheriff, to $100 per month. It now is $90 per month. Salary of Mrs. E. M. Kafer, matron, was fixed at $25 per month, and the salary of Jessie Rapp, clerk in the office of Judge Davies, was raised to $1,000 per year, effective October 1.

The commissioners directed advertisement for the sale of $5,000 county bonds, 7 year bonds at 7 per cent, for the drainage of Rice Lake. Bids will be received Nov. 9.

RUM AGENT IN RUNNER PLOT U. S. CHARGES

Robert B. Leedy, Chief Federal Agent in North Dakota, is Arrested

CONFESSION IN SO. DAK

Man Caught at Sioux Falls Tells Story Implicating North Dakota Man

Fargo, Oct. 9.—Subpoenas were to be issued today in the United States district court summoning Theodore Musjerd, former clerk in the federal prohibition office in Fargo, and "E. O. Hougan, late of Fargo," to appear in Fargo next week at the hearing of Robert B. Leedy, prohibition group chief for North Dakota, arrested last evening on a commissioner's warrant. Leedy is a prisoner in the Cass county jail in lieu of $5,000 cash bail.

He is charged with two counts, conspiracy and violation of the national prohibition act in transporting whiskey from Fargo to Sioux Falls, S. D.

Cries Frame-up

Leedy claims that he is the victim of a deliberate frame-up on the part of Musjerd, who Leedy, while prohibition chief at Sioux Falls, S. D., recommended for dismissal from the service, he says, but who was given another chance. Musjerd was arrested in Sioux Falls last night where he was in possession of a motor car load of whiskey, according to advice from that city. He told Sioux Falls police that he had been commissioned by Leedy to deliver the liquor to a private detective of Sioux Falls.

Paul D. Keller, of Minneapolis, northwest divisional prohibition chief, was advised by telephone last night of the arrest of Leedy and is on his way to Fargo today.

CHANDLER SIX $1895

Chandler is Back to $1895

Chandler's reduction to $1895 is the news on the street today. And it's good news to the car-using public, because it means that Chandler has taken another big stride forward in the leadership of its field.

The Greatest Dollar-for-Dollar Value Throughout the Industry

The Chandler has always been closely priced and today, at $1895, it is decidedly the greatest value in the whole automobile industry.

The Leader of All Sixes; Most Closely Priced

It has always been the basic policy of the Chandler Company to build a really fine automobile and to price it closely. The great Chandler plant, the millions of capital employed in Chandler production are back of that statement. They exist because of that policy. Chandler is the greatest of sixes and the most fairly priced.

Constantly Refined and Improved But Never Radically Changed

Other cars of many kinds and many motors have come and gone while the Chandler Six, now in its eighth year, lives and grows, and every season multiplies its thousands of friends. There is only one Chandler Six, refined and improved throughout the years but never radically changed. There is no other car like it. You will find the exclusive Chandler motor under the hood of no other car. No other car, within hundreds of dollars of the Chandler price, has the features characteristic of the highest type of design and construction for which the Chandler Six is justly famous.

Six Handsome Chandler Body Types On One Standard Chassis

On the one standard Chandler chassis, famous for its marvelous motor and for its sturdy, dependable construction throughout, are mounted six beautiful styles of bodies that meet every requirement for your comfort and satisfaction. Beautiful in design, exceptionally roomy and comfortable, and highly finished, these six Chandler models invite your most exacting inspection.

PACKARD CALLS SOCIALIST IN BANK SERVICE

Meets Carl Thompson in Debate in Nebraska and Gives His Record

SHOWS DEBS CONNECTION

Reads Long List of Record Connecting League Heads with Socialists

F. E. Packard recently returned from Nebraska where he took part in the campaign being waged there against townleyism. When in the state, he debated Carl D. Thompson, an employee of the Bank of North Dakota, at Oacola, and in the course of the debate, Packard made the charge that the leaders of the Nonpartisan league were socialists, and that they could generally be judged by Thompson's record as a socialist. Packard traced Thompson's socialist career as far back as 1903, and forced this latest socialist employee of the Bank of North Dakota to admit the truthfulness of the charges in every detail.

In 1903 Walter Thomas Mills was conducting the International school of Social Economy at Kansas City, Missouri, and among his valued workers and socialist lecturers was Carl D. Thompson. This information was contained in the issue of the "Socialist Teacher" of March 27, 1905. It contained, among other things, an advertisement of the "New Times" socialist weekly published by Joseph Gilbert at Spokane, Washington, and the "Colorado Chronicle," another socialistic weekly published by D. C. Coates, at Denver, Colorado. Frank P. O'Hare, who shortly married Kate Richards, was one of the lecturers in this institution as well as Walter Thomas Mills and Carl D. Thompson. In 1905 D. C. Coates and Joseph Gilbert were delegates to the convention in Chicago, which launched the I. W. W., and Coates was placed in nomination in opposition to Bill Haywood for chairman and Gilbert made a long speech, which facts were established by the official record of the convention.

In 1908 Victor Berger placed Carl D. Thompson's name before the national socialist convention in Chicago as a candidate for the presidency. In 1914 Thompson was director of the "Socialist Congressional Campaign Book," in which is found in state, "So it (the socialist party) proposed to restore the lands and the machinery to the men who produce the crops in this country, but this cannot be done by individual ownership."

Debs' Connection
"The International Socialist Review," of May, 1919, contains an advertisement for a place called "Scott, Kansas, with Eugene V. Debs as chancellor, Arthur LeSueur, as vice president, and among the board of control, Caroline A. Lowe, George D. Brewer, John M. Work, Marion Horton and Carl D. Thompson. This school was given the stamp of approval by Eugene V. Debs in an article in the "American Socialist," the official organ of the Socialist party of America in its December 2nd, 1916, issue.

In 1916 Carl D. Thompson was the national campaign manager of the socialist party, and managed the campaign of Benson for president, and Kirkpatrick for vice president, on behalf of the socialists. In the issue of the "American Socialist," of Nov. 18, 1916, Thompson said: "The campaign of 1916 is over; the campaign of 1920 has begun; whatever the final results—and without waiting to get them—I, for one, have always begun the campaign of 1920. Every live and steadfast socialist, I presume has done the same; our campaign never ends." In the "American Socialist" of July 14, 1917, Thompson said over his signature: "The first item in the socialist program, according to Marx and Engels, in the 'Communist Manifesto,' deals with the land problem. It reads as follows: '(1) Abolition of property and land, and the application of its rights to land to public purposes.'"

Nationalization of Land
It is apparent that three years ago Thompson was a socialist who subscribed to the nationalization of land, and the support of government from and rent.

On February 20, 1920 Carl D. Thompson wrote a friend, on the stationery of the Public Ownership League of America, of which organization Governor Frazier and Bill Burke are vice presidents, as follows: "Yes, the N. P. L. has almost completely displaced the socialist party in the Northwest. . . . Among other things, the N. P. L. . . . will exempt personal property and gradually shift taxation to land values." Thus, only a few months ago, Thompson confessed that the Nonpartisan league had absorbed the socialists, in nine northwestern states, and that the policy of the Nonpartisan league was the Henry George single tax—the support of government from land rents.

Admits Charge
Before an immense audience, made up almost altogether of farmers and league members, Thompson admitted every item of the charge as to his socialist record and beliefs.

Packard, used with telling effect a photographic copy of Debs' No. 41, issued by the Agricultural Workers' organization, May 2, 1917, and one of the exhibits in the Chicago I. W. W. trial. So far as pertinent, this policy read:

"What about those Peaky A. W. O's. Indications are that the 'guy' who does not carry an I. W. W. card in North Dakota this year will be out of luck. The farmers through their organization are willing to meet the Agricultural Workers' Organization No. 400 with the view of overcoming farmer labor troubles in that state. Should the proposition offered by the farmers' organization, be accepted by your organization, a rather humorous condition will exist in North Dakota when a farmer comes to town after a man, the wobbly will ask him for his card in the farmers' organization. If he has none, the wobbly will tell him there is nothing doing. The members of the farmers' organization on the other hand will hire only I. W. W. men. The unorganized farmer and the unorganized worker will be out of luck in Big Dick if such an understanding between the two organizations is carried out. This proposition that the North Dakota farmers are going to make us will include transportation for union men. This is some of the business that we expect will come up at the convention to be held in C. C. May 30th. Think it over in the meantime."

It will be recalled that in 1917 the I. W. W. met at Kansas City, and Townley wrote a letter to the convention and sent Arthur LeSueur to make a deal between the I. W. W. and the Nonpartisan league, the nature of which is set forth in the above rather direct statement.

PROTECTION OF 'COOP' INVESTORS URGED ON STATE

Secretary of State's Report Points Out the "License to Loot"

WOULD CODIFY THE LAWS

New laws to restrict wild cat organizations of corporations, protection for stockholders and an appropriation to permit employment of auditors to enforce the Blue Sky law are advocated by Thomas Hall, secretary of state, in the annual report compiled by Mr. Hall and Maurice Dunn, assistant secretary of state.

Particular mention is made of the present law for organization of cooperative concerns. As the law is now it is an invitation to unscrupulous persons, the report states. The co-operative law does not specify that articles of incorporation state no directors, state the number of directors, the term of existence or the securing provision for keeping records or adoption of by-laws.

The law regarding amendments "provides that such power to amend shall include power to increase or diminish the 'round of capital stock and the number of shares.' This provision overlooks section 138 of the constitution, which says stock shall not be increased except in pursuance of general law, nor with consent of less than one-half the amount of voting stock, the report adds.

The present cooperative law provides that after paying a stock dividend not to exceed 3 per cent, the amount of the net earnings, not exceeding 5 per cent of the gross sales, or purchase of raw materials or both, may be set aside by the directors for educational purposes.

License to Loot
The report continues: "It is clear that any association that accepts such a provision would not pay any patronage dividends; take for example an elevator company capitalized at $200,000. Mr. Hall's report continues, 'and doing an annual business of $200,000; 3 per cent on the capital is $1,800 and 5 per cent of the sales is $10,000, making a total of $11,800 or 5.9 per cent of the capital stock before any net profits will be available for distribution to patrons. 'I am firmly of the opinion that in state instead of granting such license to loot should maintain a comprehensive supervision over such associations. Such supervision, if efficient, sympathetic and honest, can do much to weed out the grafting promoter, the inefficient manager and reduce the present unnecessarily large number of failures,' the secretary concludes.

Mr. Hall strongly urges the legislature to make an appropriation for the Blue Sky commission to permit the employment of competent auditors to investigate newly-formed companies.

Five-sixths of the states require a copy of articles of incorporation to be filed in some public office in counties where the principle office of the corporation is located, the secretary's report says, and urges such a requirement in North Dakota.

Codification Urged
Annual reports of corporations should show the financial condition of the corporation and provision should be made for the liquidation of corporations whose charters have been cancelled for failure to file annual reports, the report says.

Codification of the laws of the state is urged. If all laws are not codified, at least the election and corporation laws should be, Mr. Hall says.

A charter should not be issued to a corporation until a certain percentage of the authorized capital stock has been paid in, he says, and adds:

"A restriction of this nature would tend to check the promotion of over-capitalized corporations and the flotation of stocks, the chief, is not the only cause of the promoter's power of persuasion unfettered by stern things like facts."

codified, at least the election and corporation laws should be, Mr. Hall says.

ADDRESS OF MUSIC FEATURES THE FEDERATION CLOSING PROGRAM

Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer Speaks at Closing Session to Club Women Interested in Music.

One of the pleasing events of the closing session of the federation of women's clubs last night was the address on music by Mrs. Oberndorfer, of Chicago, chairman of the music clubs in the general federation. She said:

"At no time in the history of the world has any nation faced such an opportunity for the development of a National art as that which lies before America today. From every great war in the past some one nation has arisen supreme in political and commercial importance. Then begins the development of its arts, and, if we review the pages of musical history, we will find that the greatest growth in music always follows some great war. Today we face the same situation in America.

Wrong Attitude: "We Americans have had the wrong attitude regarding music for so many years that it is difficult for us to grasp quickly the full realization of its power. As a nation we have treated music as a thing apart from, instead of a part of, our daily life. It is not so many years ago that the average American business man was all but ashamed to acknowledge a love for music. Now a change has come. Music has become a force and not an adjunct in the life of every American citizen. He pre-war status of music in America will never return.

Confucius once said: "If you would know a country, go well governed and of good morals; listen to its music." The folk music of any land is its most important musical asset, yet it has only been recently that we in America have come to realize the wealth of our own folk material. We are just beginning to recognize the marvelous strength of our land and music, just as we are at last discovering the true worth of the Indian legends. In the native songs of the American Negro are to be found the most interesting and unique expression ever contributed to literature and music by a primitive folk.

"The General Federation of Women's Clubs has pledged its support to all good American music. What are we to do about it? First, we must familiarize ourselves with the music that is being used in our homes, our clubs, our schools, our churches, Sunday schools, theatres, moving picture houses; and the music that is being advertised in our shops, magazines, and newspapers. We will be surprised, we may even be horrified with what we will find, but it is time that we knew. When you consider the titles, the pictures on the covers, the words themselves, to look at the words themselves to know that the song is vile. "Jazz" music in its original form was used as the accompaniment to the Voo-Do ceremonies by which the uneducated, almost barbaric Negro, aroused all his vilest and most sensuous nature. Is it any wonder that the largest industries, which started Community Singers for employees during war times, have been forced to forbid the singing of "Jazz" in their factories?"

Search for Substitutes: "When we know what the evil music is and where it is, then we must search for a substitute. And the best substitute will be of no value unless we make our music a vital part of our every day life in America, from our own homes out to every part of our community.

"Let us start a daily music hour in our homes, when we sing the good, old folk songs of America, which our Americanization work has taught us really are the folk songs of the whole world. Let us encourage our children to play good music for us in our homes. Let us use our phonograph and player-pianos as a force for good amusement and education in our home circles.

"An ideal plan for community cooperation is furthering a knowledge of good music in your community is the Music Memory contest."

The Corseting of a Young Girl

It is not such a simple matter as might be supposed. Just a light, soft little corset is required, to be sure, but it must be correctly designed and firm enough to give support to the back, to brace the shoulders and to prevent any enlargement of the diaphragm.

It must give that poise which will make her frocks look smart—and, above all, it must be completely comfortable. Redfern Corsets for slim, girlish figures are ideal in every particular. A fitting will demonstrate their usual qualities. And let us show you some of our special front-lace models for slight figures. They are so easy to adjust and so comfortable that most young girls prefer them both for every-day wear and for dancing.

STOMACH TROUBLE

There is perhaps no other organ of the body which is more abused than the stomach. Oft times we take into our stomach a combination of pepper, vinegar, salt, spices, etc., and if the mixture were placed upon the skin of the arm it would cause a blister in the course of a few hours. Yet, if the stomach is in perfect condition it will stand a great deal of abuse. If you are not feeling well and suffering with stomach trouble remember that with proper care that trouble can be overcome. If the nerves that pass from the spinal column to the stomach are in normal condition and not pressed upon at the point where the nerves pass out from the spine, in most cases the stomach will be healthy. If you are sick and wish to get well see a competent Chiropractor who can remove the cause for you and restore you to health.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

(Established 1878)

HOMEBUILDER "BILL" EXCITED

When Comrade William Prater, manager of the Townley interests in Burleigh, went to the state capital to file the petition of nomination for L. D. Bailey, he must have been badly rattled. Just how he happened to file the secret caucus pledge by mistake has not been revealed, but Comrade William Prater has performed a distinct service for the opposition.

Do the voters want representatives in the legislature who pledge themselves to jump every time Boss Townley or Boss Lemke cracks the whip over their backs. Is there any more vicious thrust against representative government or majority rule than the pledge Comrade William Prater inadvertently gave to the world?

The Burleigh county anti-Townley Republicans have nominated a well balanced ticket consisting of Len Sperry for state senator and Semling, Heaton and Anderson for members of the lower house. These men will take no pledge save that imposed by the constitution of the state—the oath of office binding them to support the constitution of the United States and that of the state of North Dakota. This pledge to the people of their fealty is the only one that will actuate these gentlemen—not a secret pledge to a political machine whose sole object is the overthrow of representative and constitutional government and the substitution of a soviet system.

GETS WHITEWASHED

In a long winded resolution the county board of commissioners have completely whitewashed Chairman E. G. Patterson of any criticism in diverting a road engine from county work in order that it might be used on his farm.

At the close of the meeting Chairman Patterson took the resolution from his pocket and proceeded to spread the whitewash with a lavish hand.

Every commissioner with the exception of Commissioner Ward joined in the little whitewashing party. Mr. Ward refused to assist in giving Mr. Patterson the immunity bath and when it came to vote on the proposition he passed.

Voters of the county know full well from this that Commissioner Swanson is completely within the domination of Mr. Patterson as well as are several of the other commissioners.

Judging from the way the affairs of the county are being conducted over the protest of Commissioner Ward, it is high time for the voters to reject Commissioner Swanson and select Mr. Tierney and Victor Moynier both of whom are commissioners on the anti-Townley ticket.

They are men deserving of the support of the men and women voters in their respective districts and can be depended upon not to wear the Pattersonian collar.

CENTER FIGHT HERE

Burleigh county is of immense importance to the Nonpartisan league and the leaders are bending every effort to win it back into the column of the organization. In June, Burleigh repudiated the Townley program and stepped into that group of counties which stand for an immediate return to constitutional government.

Not a stone is going to be left unturned to carry the county in which the capital city is located and where most suits are instituted involving political issues.

In addition to putting over their state ticket in Burleigh, the henchmen of Townley want control of the legislative delegation and most especially the district judge and state's attorney.

At present E. S. Allen is the pliant servant of the nonpartisan league and the political bedfellow of E. G. Patterson. He is on the ticket which the "Bill" Prater voters' school is circulating together with the slander on Miss Nielson.

The league wants their representative here where criminal suits are instituted against state officials and investigations are made into charges of irregularities. That is the reason Mr. Allen is being supported. He is proud of his league affiliation and at various times was connected with the league's fight made upon Minnie Nielson. It is not forgotten that this Edward S. Allen was at one time attorney for N. C. Macdonald in his brazen attempt to oust Miss Nielson from office. Associated with him in law practice is Joe Goughlan, law librarian, who also assists Mr. Townley's legal department in Burleigh.

It is essential to have a state's attorney in this county who is not under the domination of Townley. F. E. McCurdy served the county well in the past and was defeated two years ago by unfair tactics and the circulation at the eleventh hour of a political roorback, most vicious in type. He is entitled to the vote of the men and women who stand for a clean administration of that important office.

As vigorous a fight is being made to supplant Judge Nuessle in this district as is being made to retain the services of State's Attorney Allen. Realizing that there is little chance to elect Freerks of Jamestown, once disbarred for fraud, the league is trying to secure the election of Foster, a former assistant attorney general and league special counsel at Bismarck. They hope through a lucky turn of the political wheel to land Foster and secure his assignment to Bismarck, transferring the other judge who may be selected to Jamestown.

Every effort should be put forth over the district to retain Judge Nuessle at Bismarck. It is a trying judicial post to fill because so many factional quarrels reach the court which have little merit and it takes a strong judge to maintain justice and strict impartiality. Judge Nuessle has kept his office above suspicion of political taint. He has some critics in every faction because he has refused resolutely to play factional politics. Judge Nuessle has been every inch a judge and regardless of the voters' political affiliations they should support him and defeat the Townley plot to supplant him here.

All that has been written here of Judge Nuessle applies with equal force to Judge Coffey. He should be retained in this judicial district for the same reason.

In the strife of the closing weeks of the campaign the voters are inclined to overlook these two important offices which are intended to safeguard the peace, health and safety of the community.

Don't fail to support Judges Nuessle and Coffey and F. E. McCurdy for states attorney.

Don't let the league drag the judgeship in this district into the mire of factional politics.

Let us rescue the office of state's attorney.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinions of The Tribune. They are published here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

THE CAUCUS PLEDGE

The Townley caucus pledge is to the front again. Through the clumsiness of an organization worker there was filed with the secretary of state in lieu a copy of the pledge exacted from league legislative candidates, and which, in this case, had been signed by one of the organizations candidates.

It was not intended that this pledge should be made public. It will be remembered that when the practice of pledging candidates to be bound by the action of the caucus was exposed in another campaign the Townley press denied positively that such pledges had been exacted, and candidates were brought forward to sign statements denying that they had been asked to sign such pledges. When the facts were sifted down it developed that, because of fear or the effect of the exposure of the practice, the pledge, which had originally been in the exact form published by The Herald and other independent papers, had been slightly amended as to form, so that the pledge used later differed slightly in wording, but not at all in essential meaning.

The practice of hog-tying candidates in advance of their election continues. It is a vicious practice, absolutely with justification from any standpoint. It makes the legislator who is bound by it a puppet rather than an independent representative of his constituents. It makes him the slave of a chance majority, no matter how that majority may be obtained, whether by fraud, misrepresentation or intimidation; and the Townley managers have used all three. Such a pledge requires a legislator to vote at times in opposition to his own convictions and contrary to what he believes to be his duty to his state and his own constituents.

There is one pledge that the new official is required to take, and that pledge is sufficient for every purpose. It is that he will support the constitution of the United States and that of the state of North Dakota. To add to or subtract from that pledge is to destroy its force and strike at the very foundations of our government, for one of the essentials of that government is that the lawmaker shall be absolutely independent, free to use his own judgment on all questions that arise, and not to be molested for the use of his own judgment in performing what he believes to be his duty.

There are two or three questions which citizens may appropriately ask of every man who presents himself before them as a candidate for legislative honors. Among them are these:

Have you signed a pledge similar to that signed by L. D. Bailey of Burleigh County?

Have you been asked to sign this or any similar pledge?

Would you sign such a pledge if asked to do so?

If you have signed any pledge with reference to your legislative work, what is its exact text?

These are things that the people are entitled to know. They are things that the people need to know before they can pass intelligently on the character and general fitness of the men who ask for their support for any public position. If these questions are asked, and if he answers unsatisfactorily, or refuses to answer, the voters should know what to do with him without advice from any quarter.—Grand Forks Herald.

THE BEST ON EARTH

Says Mrs. Staples of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I could not eat or sleep for six months, had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months, caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk five miles to church every Sunday morning, and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude to it."—Mrs. SUSAN C. STAPLES, 157 1/2 School St., Taunton, Mass.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and illness. It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, such as displacements, inflammation, and ulceration. Why don't you try it?

THE EXPERIENCES OF HIRAM WISE

INTRODUCTION

"Hiram Wise" is a farmer of the old school who believes in the "emancipation of humanity." Being a forward looking man, he is one of the first to join the Nonpartisan league when its organizers visited his community. While his varied experiences are told in story form, practically every one of them has been duplicated in real life.

"Bobs" speech has been written in dialect in order to carry out the general idea. It is "Hiram" who is doing the talking, telling the reader of his experiences with the Nonpartisan league in emancipating North Dakota.

—The Author.

Chapter II.

He Helps Pick the Candidates

One night when I called at the Henroost Center postoffice for my mail I saw a new paper among it and I wondered what on earth it was. So after I got home I sat down and looked over it. I see at once it was our new Nonpartisan paper and I all the funny pictures I ever seen then was the best. Why it had of Big Business pictured as a big fat fellow with a big diamond ring on his finger and a big diamond in his necktie, looked as big as a goose egg, and it had a lot of pictures showing how the farmers got the worst end of it and a lot of readin' tellin' how the farmers would join all together for their protection and how the big boys would get no more with it. So you've all seen these papers by now and I won't go into details but it sure made a hit with the farmers. St. Hacking came over to my place to talk to me. Well, show 'em Hiram, say he will show 'em I've been doin' some fixin' and I figure that ..

AMIDON NOT UPHOLD IN MINE CASE

Dakota Coal Company to Claim Damages as Result of High Handed Seizure

Fargo, Oct. 9.—Failure on the part of the state to substantiate in the court of appeals the order by which Judge Amidon of the United States court held that the state government had the power to seize coal mines, is disclosed by the complete copy of the opinion of the circuit court of appeals.

Judge Amidon held that under the alleged emergency conditions existing at the time his order was made the governor of the state was empowered to prohibit mining and take over and operate coal mines in the name of the state. The court of appeals says:

"It is the opinion of the court that the order of the trial court denying plaintiff's motion for a temporary injunction should not be permitted to stand, but should be reversed, and the case remanded to the lower court with directions to consider and vacate said order denying the plaintiff's motion for a temporary injunction and in view of the change of conditions, the plaintiff, if they desire, should be permitted to amend their complaint."

Will Claim Damages

It is understood that the coal companies, acting upon this decision of the court of appeals will amend their complaints to claim damages for the unlawful occupation of their mines.

The case, known as the Dakota Coal Company et al. appellants, vs. G. A. Fraser, individually and as attorney general of the state, was heard at the time of Judge Amidon's decision in the establishment of state power over private property rights.

Since the decision was announced, attempts were made in a Fargo socialist paper to show that the state's authority to seize property was upheld by Judge Amidon, had been affirmed by the circuit court of appeals.

Not Permitted to Stand

The circuit court, however, holding that the question of an injunction had become moot through the fact that the state and relinquished control of the mines, also holds that the decision of Judge Amidon should not be permitted to stand. The court of appeals holds "in fact that there has been no hearing on the merits of the case."

"This appeal, however, involves the question of the right to a temporary injunction at the time of the hearing in November, 1919, only," says the circuit court of appeals. "There has never been any hearing upon the merits. It appears from the record before us that the main case is now pending in the trial court upon a motion to dismiss the complaint."

Within the last few days it has become known that an appeal to the state, with Seth Richardson of Fargo as counsel for the coal companies, had been filed with the supreme court of the United States at an effort to substantiate Judge Amidon's decision, and thus make it binding in future litigation or instance of this kind.

Seizure of the property of the Dakota Coal company was effected by the state in 1919, under an order of the governor who proclaimed martial law and said it was necessary for the state to operate the mine because of a threatened strike of the miners. At the time of the martial law proclamation no order for a strike had been issued in North Dakota, and this fact was not affected by strike orders then pending in the central or bituminous fields.

John E. Thompson of Minot, and A. W. Cuper, of Pierre, Tennessee & Cuper, Fargo, represented the coal companies.

FARMERS LOSE MONEY PUT IN LEAGUE PAPER

With the authorization today of the sale of the defunct Public Opinion, newspaper established in Bismarck, it became apparent that the farmers and others who put their money into the proposition will get nothing back.

One half of the sale price of $8,000 will go for the payment for four chattel mortgages and the remainder will apply on the debts of the company. With receivership expenses to be met, it is probable that farmers who have signed notes will be called upon to pay them. P. J. Engseth, receiver indicated in court today.

The receiver asked Judge Nusselt to approve the sale to Bill Prater, a local farmer. It had been announced that the property would be taken over by the new Tribune paper, but it appeared today that Prater was acting as a go-between. Whether he will sell the paper to the Tribune bureau at a profit, or whether it will be taken into for a value greater than was paid for it is not known. It has been customary in organizing league papers to take out 15 percent for promotion.

The plan as presented was for Prater to pay $300 cash to bind the bargain. $3,570.72 on approval and $3,829.28 in four chattel mortgages to be assumed. About $20.00 is said to have been put into the property by the farmers.

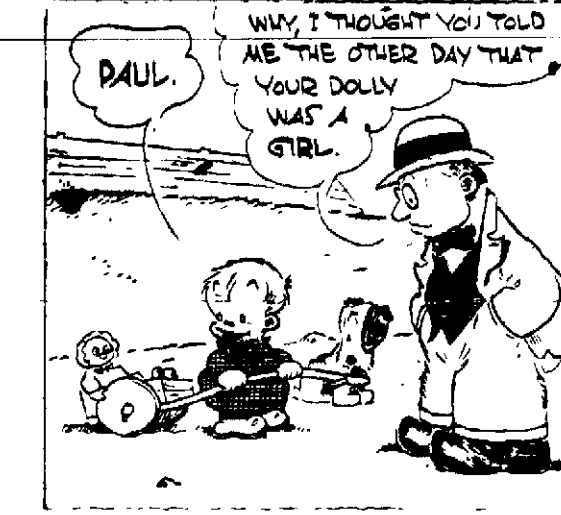

A letter developed when it was stated that some of the property was being used by J. W. Brinton in his plant. It was said that some of the equipment had been "loaned" to the Burleigh County Farmers Press several months ago.

A previous agreement had been made in Sept. 1919, by the Publishers National Service Bureau to buy the plant, but the agreement made by W. W. Long it was repudiated.

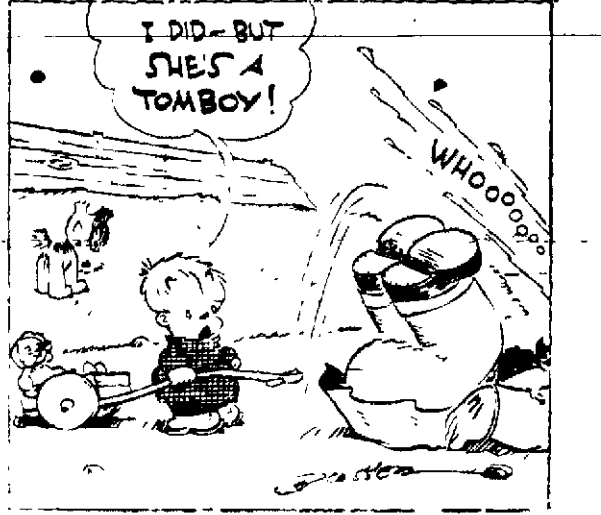

The sale proposed today was approved.

ARMY CAMPAIGN FOR FUNDS IN COUNTY GROWS

General Success for Salvation Army Through State is Reported

Good progress in the raising of funds for the Salvation Army for its work in Burleigh county, is reported today by the committee in charge. H. S. Dobler, general chairman of the campaign in this county, is optimistic as to the outcome here, as are all of the sub-chairmen.

"Bismarck and Burleigh county have never failed to do their share in any work of this sort, and you can count on it that we're going to do our part this time," said one of the most prominent workers today.

A special effort is to be made Monday to "clean up" the work, which remains to be done in Bismarck. The local Elks to whom goes the credit for having been the first ever to suggest a "budget" for the Salvation Army, kindly consented to handle the work in the city. Under their efforts the fund has grown daily, although it is announced, there is still quite a way to go before success is assured. F. J. Grady is chairman of the work for Bismarck.

Four thousand dollars of the amount which is being asked for here is to be used in remodeling the Bismarck Citadel of the Salvation Army, in such a manner that the upper story may be used for rest and recreation rooms. $2,700 is to be used for relief and extension work.

Reports being received from other parts of the state indicate steady progress in raising the fund which has been set for a final total of $25,000, in addition to the special funds asked for building purposes.

Wilson to Direct Campaign for Cox

League to Be Made Paramount Issue for Balance of Fight

Washington, Oct. 9.—Now that President Wilson has entered the political field as defender of the League of Nations the campaign will center about that proposed international agreement. The president has taken his own time and adopted his own method of entering the campaign. However, he has been assisted, and urged, by Democrats who have believed that the campaign Governor Cox has conducted has failed up to this time utterly.

The President has been difficult to approach, and Edward H. Moore, representing Governor Cox, while in Washington last week, was unable to reach the President at all.

It is understood that Governor Cox is to be managed from now on. He will be asked to submit his campaign adventures to the direction of Democratic leaders. He will be expected to make the League of Nations the chief issue, and Article X will be the key-stone of that issue.

The fact that President Wilson has entered the lists, gives point to the desire for a "great and solemn referendum," which the President has decried upon the League of Nations.

If Governor Cox should be elected now, the President could assume the result as in favor of his ideal of an international association of nations. On the other hand, the election of Harding (since the President has assumed the burden of the League's defense) will be interpreted as a complete repudiation of Wilson by the people, more comprehensive even than that which he received in 1918.

Will File Charge Of Murder Against Great Northern Agent

Fargo, Oct. 9.—A charge of murder in the first degree will be preferred today against F. W. Nolan, Great Northern detective, for the shooting of Joseph Bagley, 1. W. W. at 1140 1st St. N. D. last Saturday noon, according to John Sad of Cooperstown, N. D. state's attorney of Griggs county. Bagley died in a Fargo hospital Monday.

The complaint follows the investigation of the shooting by a coroner's jury, which yesterday afternoon reported a verdict of manslaughter to his death as the result of a bullet wound inflicted by Nolan. States Attorney Sad of Cooperstown, said Nolan is held in the Griggs county jail on a charge of assault with intent to kill but that this charge would be dismissed today on the substance of the new complaint.

COST $275 TO RAISE WHEAT

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 9.—The average cost of raising wheat in North Dakota in 1919 was $2.75 per bushel, according to data gathered by E. J. Willard of the North Dakota Agricultural college experiment station on 250 farms throughout the state.

SAYS CHARGE WAS $25 FOR AN HOUR

Warden L. E. Stair, of the state penitentiary, said today that a misstatement which was made as to the charge he made to E. J. Willard for having his grain with wheat in the penitentiary, was charged $25 a day.

How the Strike Against High Prices is Being Won

For a long time, remarks the New York Times, "high prices seemed like the weather, about which, as Mark Twain said, everybody talked but nothing was done." Then the buying public, reacting at last from the wave of extravagance that swept the country in war time, began a few months ago to rebel against the ever diminishing purchasing power of the dollar. The result of this action is seen in the dramatic price cuttings in the wholesale market last month, which affected wheat, corn, oats, wool, cotton, automobiles, textiles, clothing, food-stuffs, metal, leather, and many other commodities. The wholesale prices of these commodities have declined on the average about 20% below the high prices of February, according to R. E. Edmundson of the New York News Record, a commercial daily, who predicts that these cuts are "certain to be reflected in a reduced cost of living—removing the usual excuses for striking to get higher wages." Dispatches from various cities report that the procession of falling prices in the retail trade has already begun.

The leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST this week, October 9th, will be read with great satisfaction by the public. It gives a comprehensive review, drawn from all sources of information, of the conditions of trade in the United States, including the prospects for the country's getting back on a lower price level without affecting the hours or wages of labor.
